

Best Practices with ClassFlow: Using Groups to Differentiate

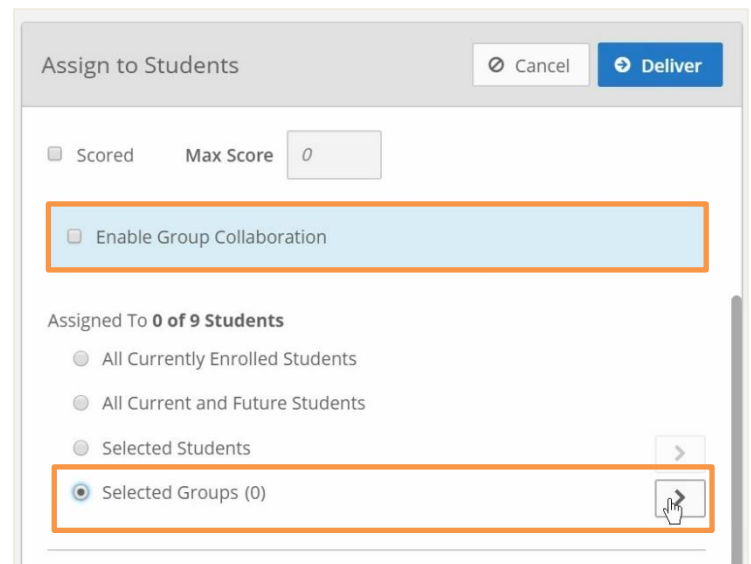

In a rostered ClassFlow class, you may create groups. Please view our resources on creating groups for more information. Groups are the perfect way to easily differentiate for your students to best meet their needs.

In Lesson Presenter, send different lesson cards to different groups by clicking the Send button from the Teacher Panel, then Groups. Select the intended group or groups and click Send. Repeat as needed.

Note: You must have at least two students connected for the Groups option to appear.

To differentiate ClassFlow assignments with groups when assigning, simply select the Selected Groups option, and use the arrow to the right to select the appropriate group(s). You may also Enable Group Collaboration so all students work together to complete a single product to submit.

Yet another way to differentiate with groups is through the Class Feed, though this will only work for Student Generated classes. When creating a post to display on students' accounts, just begin typing the name of a group in the recipient field, and it will appear.

Follow us on Twitter @LearnPromethean, subscribe to our Promethean Video YouTube channel, sign up to hear from us, and visit our website to learn more.

